

A Few Words From The President

As you can read below, the First Lady and I recently participated in the Nevada Day Parade. This parade, which runs through nearby Carson City on the last Saturday of October, celebrates the admission of Nevada as a state to the United States. Before the parade we customarily meetup with the Governor of Nevada, and often with other elected officials. This gives us a chance to get the word out that Molossia exists inside the State of Nevada. In spite of the notoriety that we have gained as a nation, not everyone knows about Molossia, and of course we'd like to rectify that. Thus we do our annual reminder on Nevada Day, yet again getting the word out about our self-declared nation. I think there's no shame in a bit of self-promotion. We are our only real advocates, in our never-ending quest to carve our niche out among the world's nations. We have made great progress and Molossia is known around the world but there's always more that can be done – and each Nevada Day we do our best!

2021 Nevada Day Parade

30 October 2021 XLIV

On 30 October 2021 XLIV, His Excellency, The President, The First Lady and the First Family participated in the annual Nevada Day Parade event. Located in Carson City, Nevada, this was the 83rd occasion of the parade, which takes place on or around Nevada Day, the annual celebration of the admission of Nevada as a state. Nevada was admitted to the Union on 31 October 1864. At that time, the state was a significant producer of silver and gold, and therefore played a major role in financing the Union war effort during the United States Civil War. Nevada's admission as a state helped not only to pay for the War, but ensured a northern majority in Congress afterward.

The annual Nevada Day Parade includes marching bands, floats, local business representation, Nevada dignitaries, and of course Our President and the First Family. On this fourteenth Molossian appearance in the parade were The President, the First Lady, the Chief Constable and First Son Carson. Prior to the parade, His Excellency met with several Nevada dignitaries, including Nevada Governor Steve Sisolak, State Senator James Settlemeyer and US Senators Catherine Cortez Masto and Jacky Rosen. All of these distinguished individuals knew about Molossia, which speaks well for our nation.

The parade route stretches for about 1.2 Imperial Nortons (1.2 km) through the middle of Carson City, the state capital of Nevada. Along the route several reviewing stands are set up, with announcers introducing each parade entry. As years go by the announcers get better and at pronouncing the name of our nation correctly. As the President passed the spectators, many called out, wanting to know where Molossia is located. His Excellency and the First Lady responded and the good humored crowd generally took it in stride that there was a sovereign nation right down the road from them, inside their own state. Eventually the parade ended and The First Family returned to Molossia. A fine time was had by all and as always we all look forward to next year's Nevada Day Parade.

It's a Great Day!

A Visit To Cherokee

19 October 2021 XLIV

On 17 October 2021 XLIV, His Excellency The President, the First Lady and Chief Constable had the opportunity to visit the Eastern Band of the Cherokee Indians, located in western North Carolina in an area known as the Qualla Boundary. The EBCI is the remnant of the Cherokee nation that existed in Western North Carolina, Eastern Tennessee and North Georgia for thousands of years, prior to the arrival of white settlers. By the 1820's the Nation was a legal, autonomous, tribal government with its own constitution, laws, written language and newspaper. White pressure to occupy Cherokee land resulted in the Nation's removal to Oklahoma, a tragic act of genocide known as the Trail of Tears. A small population of Cherokee remained in the depths of the Smoky Mountains, avoiding removal. In the late 19th century this remainder gathered on a piece of land purchased for them by a white ally, and established the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians. The Eastern Band gained Federal recognition as a tribe in the 20th century and continues as such, a sovereign, native nation within the United States.

During their visit to Cherokee, the heart of the Eastern Band's territory, His Excellency had sought to meet with the Principal Chief to discuss sovereignty. Regrettably a meeting could not be arranged; instead, the First Family toured the Nation, experiencing the history, culture and government of the tribe. The Eastern Band has a thriving economy largely from tourism and revenue is directed at economic development, as well as tribal welfare and support of cultural initiatives, such as the language immersion program and development of historic preservation programs. The Cherokee language, using the syllabary developed by Sequoia, is used throughout the Nation. It was an excellent experience for the First Family to visit this Cherokee homeland, a nation within a nation, surviving against the odds to thrive and to preserve Cherokee life, culture and traditions.

The Last Word With The First Lady

Hello all! November is here and it is almost winter time. Here in Molossia we are thinking about holidays with the family and new ideas for the springtime. Molossia is a family nation with real moving parts. We are always looking for new ways to help our country grow and expand, even if for now, it is only within our territory. Even though tourist season just ended we do have some visitors that come regularly. Whenever someone comes back to visit Molossia, we hope they find a new feature to marvel at. It could be something big like the golf course or just something small that they didn't notice the first time around, like the address on our buildings and what they stand for. Every bit of detail that goes onto our country is by design. The President and I work hard to give our county a unique twist that we are proud of. Keep you're eye out for next years tour dates and come see us! Until then, we will spend our time with family, dreaming up the next big (or small) thing.

Thank you all and until next time,

Think of a small thing that can make your life a little more unique.
